

OCTOBER 1, 2008

CONNECTING WITH CONSUMERS

R & I

RESTAURANTS
& INSTITUTIONS[®]

ACTIONS

Chefs hop aboard the blogosphere to build brands.

p. 12

IDEAS

Creative ways to make steak salads stand out.

p. 35

STRATEGIES

Menu designs that can ease the food-cost crunch.

p. 42

naan disting

Asia beyond China—
and Japan influence menus

... visit the
... or the Electrolux
... perators who can't
... f program.
... it a local demonstra-
... olux Professional
... nt of most interest to
... s used for popular
... and overnight cook-
... nsulting shows how
... quality of menu
... ways impressed with
... .. Especially after
... pment and receive
... e most of it for their
... certified chef for
... www.electroluxusa.

Frozen Advantage

Eighty percent of all tuna consumed in Japan is super-frozen, and now Uoriki Fresh Inc., one of the Tokyo's top seafood companies, brings it widely to the U.S. Super-freezing is a method of natural preservation. Consistency of quality, availability, and price are key attributes of the product—the natural alternative to CO-treated/gas flushed/smoked tuna. For more information, call (917) 214-4721 or visit www.minus76.com. Uoriki Fresh Inc.